

Concert by Petr Nikl and Marina Kantor & Guided tour of the exhibition
Something and Something

June 16th at 7:00 pm

When the image becomes a tone and the tone dissolves into the colour...

At the opening of the exhibition Something and Something, something that could not be planned happened - the meeting of two worlds that did not count and yet instantly harmonized. The artist, performer and musician Petr Nikl and the pianist and owner of Beseder Gallery Marina Kantor met in a joint improvisation.

A quiet tension, poetry, playfulness and deep concentration were born.

The visitors became co-creators, the gallery a stage and an instrument.

Out of this moment came an idea - not to stay with one evening. And so we invite you to a sequel that is neither a concert nor a tour. It is a living narrative, in which tones, words, silences and images will be heard. And we'll all be there.

We don't know exactly what will happen. But we do know that it will happen only once.

Free admission.

